

Computer Scientist

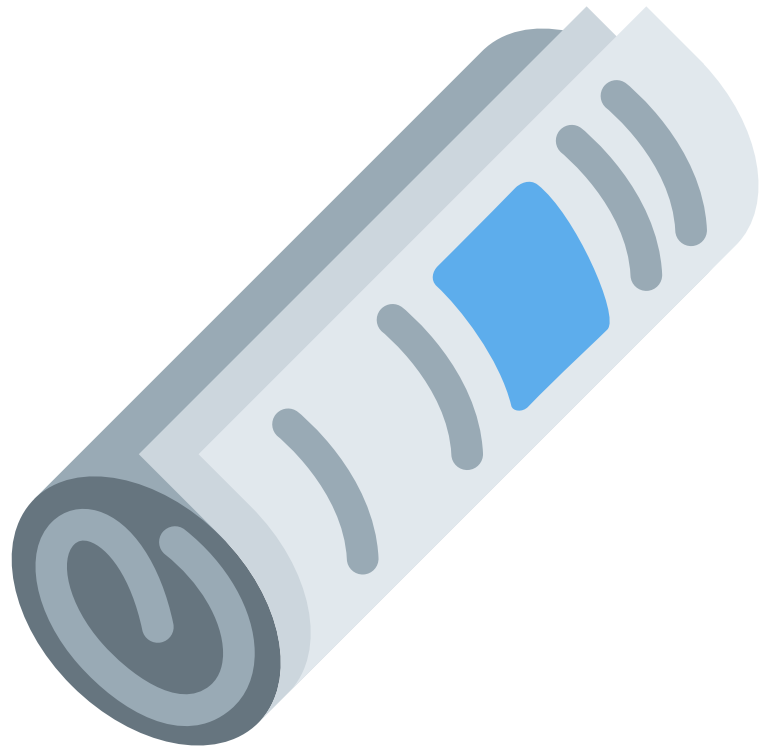

A person who creates computer programs, like apps, that you use on your tablet or phone.

Virtual Reality (VR)

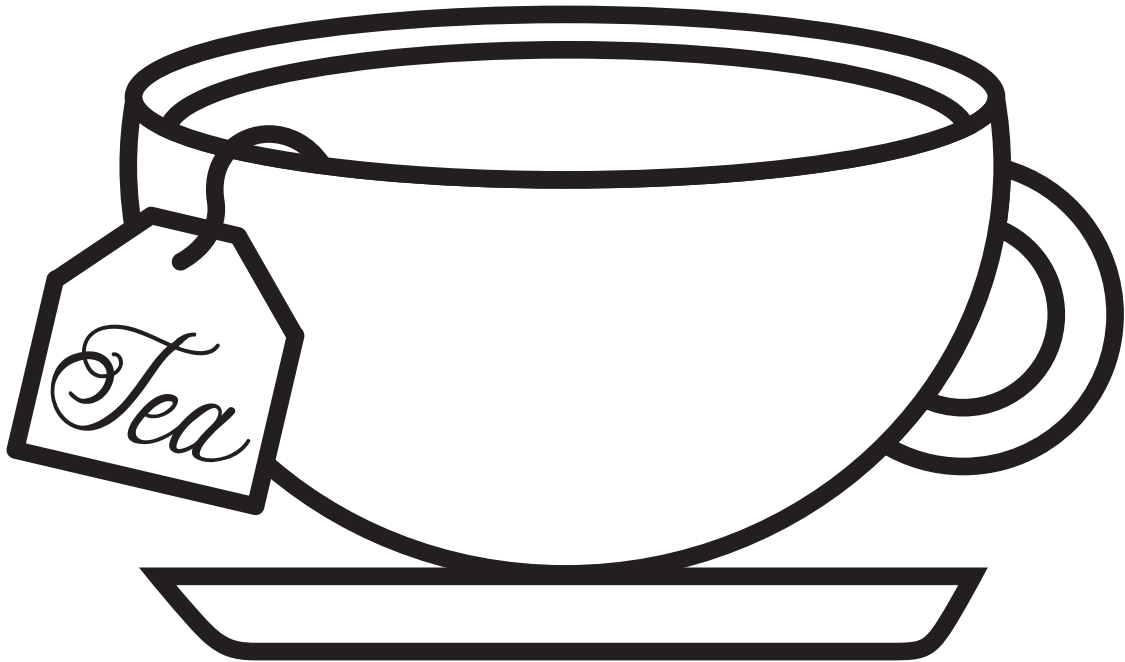

A computer program that shows three dimensional images through special glasses.

Stamp Act

A rule that the British passed in 1765. It said that colonists must pay taxes on paper that they purchased.

Tea Act

A rule that the British passed in 1773. The Tea Act said that non-British tea would be very expensive. This rule forced colonists to purchase British tea.

American Revolution

A war fought between the American colonies and Britain. The American colonies wanted to be free from British rule.

Protest

When a group of people come together to say they are against something.

Tax

A fee that people pay to the government.