Teacher Key

1. Why do countries trade goods with each other?

Countries trade goods so they can have access to items they don't make in their own country. They can also make a lot of money by selling items they make.

2. What is the difference between an export and an import?

An export is an item you sell to other countries. An import is an item you bring into the country.

3. Name two things that can stop trade between countries.

Natural disasters, poor relationships with countries, war.
