

Archivist

Someone who is in charge of gathering, collecting, organizing and preserving records that are significant to history.

Archive

A place or collection containing records, documents, and other materials of historic importance.

Digital Archive

The practice of preserving archival materials both physical and digital through the use of computers and data banks.

Reparations

Payment in money or materials by a nation that has been defeated in a war.