The PB&J Monster is a flat, diamond shaped monster who is as tall as a marker. The entire left side of his body is dark purple and the entire right side of his body is orange. He has two solid black eyes that are circular and the size of an eraser on the end of a pencil. One of the eyes is on the purple side of his body and the other is on the orange side, but they are located right next to each other near the top of his face. PB&J Monster does not have a nose, but his mouth is a red rectangle that is halfway down his face. The rectangle is two inches long and one inch tall. The PB&J Monster does not have any legs, but he has two straight arms. Each arm comes out of the corner on the side of his diamond shaped body and are the same length and thickness as a crayon. The PB&J monster is very friendly and is always trying to make new friends!
