Finding Leavenworth on a Map

Meet Devon! Devon is a television producer. A television producer is in charge of making new television shows. Right now, Devon is creating a new television show called “Learning about Leavenworth!” The show will have cartoon characters and teach kids facts about Leavenworth.

Today, you will help finish the second episode for the show. This episode will teach kids about finding Leavenworth on a map of Kansas. Follow the steps below to finish the second episode!

Step 1: Read the Beginning of the Episode

Read the script for the episode below. The script has words and pictures about what happens in the episode.

Meet Mason and Charlotte! They are going to a farm in Leavenworth. While they are walking through the crops, they start hearing strange noises. All of a sudden, the crops start talking! They quietly listen to hear what the crops are saying.

First, the soybean crop starts talking. It says, “Calling all crops! Our farm is located in Leavenworth, but I do not know where Leavenworth is located on a map! Do any of you?”

Corn says, “If you look at a map, Leavenworth is next to a county named Greeley.”

Wheat says, “No way! Leavenworth is next to a county named Jefferson.”

Sunflower says, “I think you guys are both wrong. Leavenworth is next to a county named Graham!”

Then, Jocelyn chimes in and says, “I can show you where Leavenworth is on a map. May I help you?”
