Hi! I am Nico. I am a food scientist. A food scientist is a special type of scientist who creates new recipes and ways of making food. Some food scientists try to make new foods that have never been made before. Other food scientists, like me, try to use new ingredients to make food taste better than it already does!

Right now, I work for a bakery called Sugar Rush. At Sugar Rush, we make all types of sweets, like cakes, cupcakes, and candies. It is my job to come up with new recipes for the cakes and cupcakes. Last week, I added chili powder to a cake. It tasted sweet and spicy! People can buy the sweets at our bakery!

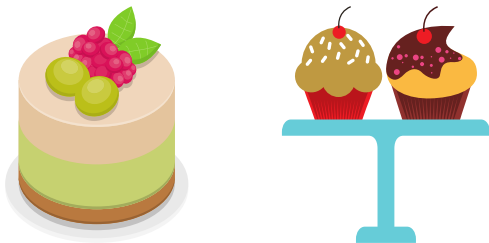

Sugar Rush also hosts classes. For example, people can come to the bakery and take a class called, “Making Silly Desserts.” When they come to the bakery for the class, they will learn how to make a dessert that looks silly, like a cupcake that looks like an alien! Each person will get ingredients and will get to make their own silly cupcake.

Sugar Rush also hosts events, like birthday parties. For example, kids can have their friends come to Sugar Rush and learn how to make a cake that is 3 feet tall!

At Sugar Rush, we sell goods and services.

A good is a physical product that people can buy.

For example, cupcakes and cakes are products.

A service is something you do for someone else.

For example, teaching people how to bake a cake is a service.

Extra Time? Help me finish making a sign to put on the front door. The sign will be in the shape of a cupcake. It is your job to:

- Write a note to welcome people to Sugar Rush.
- Draw sprinkles and other candies on top of the cupcake.
